EXOS AEROSPACE — SSLC OPTION B: ACQUISITION OFFER SUMMARY

October 9, 2026 · Exos Aerospace Systems & Technologies, Inc.

1. What SSLC Holders Receive

The Exos offer delivers liquidity, debt relief, and equity upside — without requiring any additional capital call from current SSLC shareholders.

The up-front price reflects what the numbers support today. The earn-outs are how that value grows: as goals are met — IM tank deliveries, revenue milestones and the Exos listing — SSLC holders share directly in the upside.

Earn-out rows: negotiating terms — management assumptions. Each milestone is independently verifiable; none pay unless the trigger is met.

Why this structure: SSLC holders receive real Exos equity at close (1.0% EAI units, 409A-valued ~$1.7M, issued as part of Exos's Rule 504 offering) — not only contingent upside. It aligns them with Exos immediately. The earn-out stock stays 0.0–0.5%, so total equity is 1.0–1.5%.

- No additional capital calls Once closed, SSLC's standalone cash burn stops entirely.
- IM program continuity Exos-SSLC continues the Intuitive Machines contract with no delivery interruption.

2. Why the Growth Trajectory Requires Exos Capital

The bottleneck is not the technology or the IM demand — it is working capital. SSLC's most recent quarter (FY27 Q1) came in at $713K in revenue. Hitting $5.1M for FY27 requires averaging $1.46M per quarter in Q2–Q4 — approximately 2.05× that pace — starting immediately. That doubling is not achievable on SSLC's current $198K cash balance.

Standalone constraints (SSLC's own numbers):

- Cash position $198K at October 2, 2026 — roughly one month of operating burn.

- Working capital gap $300K–$700K needed to maintain delivery commitments and service new IM orders — before SSLC can ramp to the $5.1M/year target run rate.
- Operating history FY26 operating loss: −$416K. No self-funding path to production scale.
- He-tank rework Rev3 GHe tank 4,400 psi proof issue unresolved (MC #3056). Remediation cost ~$175K to COPV ($300K gap). Resolves cleanly as intercompany under Exos.
- No capex capacity Production-scale equipment and headcount additions are not fundable from SSLC's cash position. Growth is capped at current run-rate without outside capital.

Disinterested directors	John Quinn abstains from SSLC board vote; sends as Exos CEO (Cal. Corp. Code §310)

Status	DRAFT — NEGOTIATING TERMS — not a final or binding offer

Model notes: Exos equity at close (~$1.7M) counts toward the Rule 504 $10M rolling 12-month cap; confirm remaining 504 capacity before issuance. Rule 504 reference: https://www.sec.gov/resources-small-businesses/exempt-offerings/exemption-limited-offerings-not-exceeding-10-million-rule-504-regulation-d. Rule 504 is U.S.-only; EAI units used in the separate Reg S Japan round must be tracked under a distinct exemption — the two offerings must remain separate.
