EXOS OFFER TO SCORPIUS SPACE LAUNCH COMPANY

Board Overview

John M. Quinn | Cofounder & CEO, Exos Aerospace

October 10, 2026

CONFIDENTIAL — DRAFT — NEGOTIATING TERMS

The Decision

The Board is asked to vote on three motions today.

That's why Exos has stayed committed to funding this acquisition: fair value for SSLC holders, stability for SSLC's team, and real growth for investors. Together we're stronger than apart.

Motion 1: §3 exclusivity — 90-day window begins on board approval (May 2025 AAA)
Motion 2: Full read-only QB Online access for diligence (Cal. Corp. Code §1602 + AAA §4; under 7/27/2021 NDA)
Motion 3: Consent to ERP/MRP & inventory evaluation using QB data (confidential under NDA)

Where SSLC Stands Today

$590K

Cash at 10/11

One IM payment 10/7

$713K

Last quarter revenue

Most recent reported quarter

~$1.46M/qtr

Required to hit $5.1M

M1 milestone threshold

$590K cash at 10/11 came largely from one Intuitive Machines payment on 10/7 for start-billed tanks; a $5.1M year still requires ~2× last quarter's pace starting now. With $1.03M of debt, equity of −$1.44M, and physical-space and single-winder constraints, Exos's offer removes the funding risk and gives SSLC holders direct upside.

OPEN ITEMS (Exos assessment pending reconciliation via Motion 2)

"Billed-ahead" balance: $942,177 booked as of 10/11. Exos's assessment: overstated — SSLC bills IM ~40% at tank start; those start-billings appear not cleared at shipment. Est. ~$100–200K genuinely in progress. Reconciliation requested via Motion 2. | Facility costs since Jan 2024: ~$805K (rent $725K + other; doubled to ~$23.6K/mo Jul 2024). Never charged back to Microcosm on SSLC's books.

④ is a forward-looking projection, not a guarantee; an alternative to ③ — not added to it. RTO may not close.

negotiating terms — management assumptions | SSLC debt ~$500K TBV unverified (per 10/2 QB pull) | Stock earn-out: principals' lockup terms (modeled ~12 months) | Y5 hold: dilution 30% flat (Series A $25M + RTO + pool) — mgmt assumption

The Exos Stock

Instrument

$1.0M EAI units at the current 409A valuation (~$169.7M); ~0.59% fully diluted at issuance.

Offering

Part of Exos's Rule 504 Regulation D offering. U.S. persons only. Counts toward the $10M rolling 12-month cap.

Restricted at issuance

Units carry a restrictive legend at issuance (Rule 504 Reg D). Not freely tradeable prior to the RTO listing.

Public float at RTO

Structured to be part of the public float at going public. No principals' lockup applies to these units; locked-up shares would not count as float.

Freely tradeable at listing

Becomes freely tradeable at the RTO listing (no lockup on the up-front units). Covered by the RTO resale registration.

Timeline

Units issued at financing close. Targeted RTO ~6 months post-financing. Not assured — RTO may not close.

SSLC Employees

Employment Offer

Exos shall offer employment to SSLC employees — including management, support, engineering, and other technical and manufacturing employees — on terms no less favorable than their current terms with SSLC, including compensation and benefits.

Subject to each employee satisfying Exos's standard hiring policies and Exos's completion of confirmatory due diligence.

Key-Employee Option Pool

Exos has an option pool for key employees. The allocation, key-employee retention and new-hire structure will be mutually agreed post-acquisition.

Exos Funding Commitments

$2.51M cash	at financing close (target Feb 15th)
SSLC transaction costs	at financing close (target Feb 15th)
Working-capital bridge $500K	at financing close (target Feb 15th)
$1.0M Exos stock (EAI units, Rule 504)	at financing close (target Feb 15th)
Capital in the new year — physical space and a second winder	(amount TBD; committed at financing close)
Employment offers + option pool	at financing close (target Feb 15th)
Earn-outs on milestones and tank revenue	FY27–FY31 as triggered

One decision today: confirm §3 exclusivity → 90 days → financing close target Feb 15th

Board Motions

1 Confirm §3 Exclusivity (May 2025 Asset Acquisition Agreement)

Approve a 90-day exclusivity period beginning on the date of this approval. Extension not unreasonably withheld (per §3). Allows both parties to proceed to diligence, definitive agreement, and financing close (target: Feb 15th, 2027).

☐ Approve

☐ Decline

2 Grant Full Read-Only QuickBooks Online Access for Diligence

Authorize an all-access or accountant user for John Quinn and one Exos finance reviewer. Purpose: reconcile the $942K "billed-ahead" balance and shared-facility costs (Microcosm offset) before close. Basis: Cal. Corp. Code §1602 director inspection right + AAA §4 confirmatory diligence. Confidential under the 7/27/2021 NDA.
Access to be granted no later than October 15, 2026.

☐ Approve

☐ Decline

3 Consent to ERP/MRP & Inventory Evaluation (Separate Motion)

Authorize Exos to use the same QB data to evaluate its in-house ERP/MRP and inventory systems for the combined operation. Confidential under the NDA.
Does not create any obligation to implement; evaluation only.

☐ Approve

☐ Decline

Governance: John Quinn abstains on all motions as an interested director; motions are decided by the disinterested directors.

Path to Close

1. Board Votes — Three Motions
   Today — action requested at this meeting
2. 90-Day Exclusivity Window
   Negotiation and diligence period begins
3. Definitive Agreement
   Key terms, employee pool, earn-out detail finalized
4. Financing Close — target Feb 15th
   Cash at close + EAI units issued; ① + stock = ②
5. Targeted RTO
   ~6 months post-financing; units tradeable at listing (not assured)

The Board is asked to vote on Motions 1–3. Questions and open items welcome.
